

Community Resources for People with Diabetes

Fraser Health Region

LAST UPDATED JANUARY 2017

The purpose of this guide is to provide healthcare providers and their clients a list of community resources located in the Fraser Health Region which may aid in improving and managing health. This guide is divided into four sections and lists the community programs by type of service and locations. The six sections are 1. Financial Assistance 2. Physical Activity Resources 3. Food and Nutrition Programs 4. Advocacy, Education, Literacy and ESL Programs 5. Medical Services (includes foot care) 6. Mental Health and Addictions Resources. As programs change regularly, users are urged to call or email the programs to ensure the information is up-to-date. A PDF version is available online at <http://www.selfmanagementbc.ca>. Please contact, Julieta Gerbrandt at julietag@uvic.ca to add a service that is missing or remove a service that is no longer available.

Registered Disability Savings Plan (RDSP) - Canada Revenue Agency	About: A registered disability savings plan (RDSP) is a savings plan that is intended to help parents and others save for the long term financial security of a person who is eligible for the disability tax credit. Contributions to an RDSP are not tax deductible and can be made until the end of the year in which the beneficiary turns 59. Contributions that are withdrawn are not included in income for the beneficiary when they are paid out of an RDSP. However, the Canada disability savings grant, the Canada disability savings bond, investment income earned in the plan, and rollover amounts are included in the beneficiary's income for tax purposes when they are paid out of the RDSP. Website: http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/rdsp/

Registered Disability Savings Plan	About: This plan was designed to provide long-term financial security for a person with a disability. Tax-deferred investment growth, along with generous government grants and bonds make the RDSP a powerful investment tool. Perhaps the most attractive reason to open up an RDSP is to get access to the annual Canada Disability Saving Grants (CDSGs) which can provide 100%, 200% or 300% matching grants, depending both on the beneficiary's family income and the amount contributed, up to a lifetime maximum CDSG limit of $70,000. Website:  http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/tx/ndvdl/tpcs/rdsp-reej/menu-eng.html

Canadian Mental Health Association, BC Division	About: The Canadian Mental Health Association (CMHA), BC Division exists to promote the mental health of British Columbians and support the resilience and recovery of people experiencing mental illness. We do this through advocacy, education, community-based research, and services, well as the support we provide to the 19 CMHA branches throughout BC. We're part of one of the oldest voluntary organizations in Canada, which provides direct service to more than 100,000 Canadians through the combined efforts of more than 10,000 volunteers and staff across Canada. Bounce Back is an evidence-based program designed to help adults experiencing symptoms of mild to moderate depression, low mood, or stress, with or without anxiety. Bounce Back offers two forms of help. The first is a DVD video (available in English, Mandarin and Cantonese) providing practical tips on how to recognize and deal with depressive symptoms. The second service is workbook-based with telephone coaching (available in English, French and Cantonese). Bounce Back community coaches assist in the teaching of problem-solving and other skills to overcome difficulties such as inactivity, unhelpful thinking, worry, and avoidance. Access to the coaching component requires a doctor's referral. Website: http://www.cmha.bc.ca/ Email: info@cmha.bc.ca
